CARDS OF THE OIL COMPANIES

A most unusual group of cards is that of the various oil companies. While listed as old advertising, none are really old and their status as advertising cards is subject to amendment. With a fluid product, sold as is gasoline, it is practically impossible to distribute cards in the insert manner. Even with a stipulation of one with each sale, the human element would result in many being given away, not to mention the problems of size of sale and types of products sold. In consequence, they are freely given to those who ask for them and who show an interest in samples or placards at the stations. Were it possible to distribute in a purely insert manner, no doubt it would be tried, although the most recent idea in the distribution of these items is not entirely for the encouragement of local sales, but to attract the attention of possible tourists from distant sections of the country. For this purpose, it is desired that a proportion of the output be mailed to friends in these distant sections of the country.

Among the earlier issues about which little is known is the set of MAN MADE WONDERS by General Petroleum (H450) and two sets of AIRPLANES, 40 by Tydol (H431) and 24 by Richfield (H432). Three sets of postcards are listed: TEXACO OILS IN FOREIGN LANDS (H724), COMIC CARTOONS by Shell Oil (H735), and COLOR SCENES OF THE WEST by Union Oil (H706). The Union Oils are catalogued for 3 years (255 views) and in 1947 a further 108 cards were issued, about a fifth of them being the same views as on earlier cards. These are superb postcard views and much sought by collectors. The coloring is rich, and about the only criticism one might make is the lack of name on face of card. They are distributed in about a dozen states with views of a state available only in that state. As a result, it is difficult to obtain a full set. In Canada, Union Oil also distributed a short series (H723) showing CANADA'S LEADING GENERALS in the recent war.

By far the finest of the oil issues are the WESTERN SCENIC VIEWS by Standard Oil of California (H365). These are the most beautiful works of modern color photography and are large enough to do justice to even the grandest of Western attractions. They were begun in 1939 with about a half dozen issued experimentally each in Oregon and Arizona. These are about 9x12 including border. The 1940 series was similar in size but covered a larger area with 40 to 45 pictures reported. These first years are extremely scarce and few collectors have many of them.

In 1941 a series of 60 pictures 7x9 on 10x13 $\frac{1}{2}$  mat appeared. The views include Alaska, Hawaii, and British Columbia in addition to some fifteen Western states. In 1942 the series was cut short by the war with only 5 views appearing, being a 10x13 four page folder type. The sets were renewed in 1946 with 25 large 12x15 views. In 1947 the quantity was 54 views of the same size. It would be almost impossible to be too lavish in praise of these beautiful works. No expense has been spared in their production. For 1941, 7000 views were examined in making the selection of 60 best. The most skilled outdoor photographers compete for the honor of having their works selected and authoritative writers give a complete description of the view and its surrounding area. The complex distribution system with stations in 100 areas each giving out 1 picture a week for 15 weeks of the summer season makes complete sets difficult to secure. Albums and special mailing envelopes are sold at slight cost. An information stub at the left of the picture is usually found trimmed off to fit albums and envelopes. This does not detract from the value of the print, although it is usually better, when possible, to leave such things as issued.

There is also catalogued a series of 'OVIE STARS (H123) by Standard Oil being 8x10 one color photos. It is believed that these were issued in the mid-west area. For sports fans, there is H482, a series of BASEBALL PLAYER sketches by Al Demaree; an old Giant pitcher. These are 3 1/2 x 5 1/2 black and white and given by Signal Oil in the Pacific Coast area. Like the others, it is wise to pick these up while current. As a rule, issuing companies keep no remainders and are unable to fill requests for obsolete items.

During the coming Summer, Eastern collectors will get a break as a series of Scenic Views is planned for the New England states. These will be by The California Oil Co., a subsidiary of Standard of Calif.

ENGLAND - English catalog discounts are further pointed out by a Canadian collector who submits an adv. in a recent English magazine in which are offered "Old Wills and Player series, 20/ ($4.00) per 100 cards. Superb condition. Great Variety. Catalog value over 6 pounds ($24.00)". That is one-sixth catalog. Speaking of Canadian collectors, Mr. T. deBlois had an excellent article on CARD COLLECTING in the Jan. issue of CANADIAN HOBBY CRAFT MAGAZINE (Toronto). We especially liked the illustration which showed some cards we are not familiar with.

DEAD LINE - The 10th of the month is the stated deadline for adv. copy but we try to accomodate later copy if possible. We regret that a few ads for this issue were omitted or cut in size. It is physically impossible to handle a big volume of ads later in the month without taking time from our regular job, and we already are skipping school on this issue to the extent of over $22. We want to give all service possible to advertisers, as their financial help is needed. Subscription fees do not pay for all of the material and mailing costs.

A CHECK-LIST FROM VAN WILLIAMS, ALPINE, TEXAS

MUTUOSCOPE CARDS

The following cards, which I offer for sale, I believe to be among the most beautiful ever lithographed and issued by Mutuoscope. They are in the most brilliant and gorgeous colors, with shades down to the softest pastels of the rainbow. On extra heavy stock, the backs are plain, unprinted. Slightly smaller than post-card size, these are truly collectors items, and will grow scarcer as time goes on.

The subjects, popularly known as "pin-ups", are from the brushes of talented artists such as Earl Moran, Zoe Mozert, Elvgren, Frahm, Erbit, De Voss, Russ, Christy, and others which are unsigned, but all unmistakably works of art. I believe the following list to contain the largest selection offered collectors today, although of some subjects I have only one or two. Of others I have as many as twenty. Once seen by collectors, these cards will be avidly searched for. Your want-lists of titles is solicited, as others than the ones listed here may be available from time to time.

Price 5¢ each postpaid in lots of 20 or more. On orders for less than $1.00, please add 12¢ for postage and handling.

THE METROPOLITAN COLLECTION

It was a pleasant surprise to receive a beautiful engraving certifying that the board of Trustees had elected me a Life Member of the Metropolitan Museum. This is appreciated, not only for the many privileges entailed, but also because it shows that the museum appreciates the cards they are receiving. I had hoped, before this, to forward another section - the Duke inserts - but it has been impossible to find enough time to arrange them. The photo actresses are the main bottleneck, in fact, they are probably the NO.1 bottleneck in the whole card field as it requires intense concentration and care to sort them.

The delay will make little difference, however, as Mr. Mayor writes that the problem of mounting the cards in albums is so complex that he probably won't do much with it until I can come to New York early in July and we can thoroughly go over the whole matter. Mounting for museum purposes may be done a little differently than would be advised for private purposes and several ideas are being investigated. He is anxious to do it right the first time so that it won't have to be entirely done over again after a few years.

I have been deeply touched by the many expressions of good will which continue to come in. From California, Mr. Horace McCoy writes "It is magnificent, surely the works of the old masters could not have been more precious." -which is a good idea, but a little too strong, I fear. From still farther Honolulu, Mrs. Fanny G. Troyer writes "I must write how pleased I am, I occasionally get to New York and always visit the museum so now I can look forward to a genuine treat." And many others say the same thing in different words.

I want to especially thank several who sent cards listed as needed or other unusual items for the collection. Mr. Howard W. Paul of Rochester sent 10 of the needed large Allen & Ginter, writing "These are not my duplicates, but I want to do what I can to build up the collection". Similarly, Mr. C. Glidden Osborne of England sends 3 additional of the large A&G, saying "You did a very fine act. If I come across any of the cards you need I will be only too glad to send them." Mr. Charles R. Bray sends 2 of the needed Sovereigns and several non-actress photos for the A&G sets. Mr. Harry Kenworthy of California furnished over 150 of the Standard Oil Scenic Views and writes "Because your collection is going to the Museum, I want you to have first chance at these." Mr. Samuel Tanenbaum likewise gives the collection priority with some very good material which he recently uncovered. These expressions of cooperation are ample repayment for whatever work I have done.

Even the one chap who was against the Museum idea amends his statement by explaining that his objection was due to a belief that after a while the cards would be stored away and forgotten. I believe this is an idea held by numerous people, and to check on it I first wrote to Mr. Mayor who replied "Our friend who fears that the cards will be buried in the Museum is right if he thinks that a book is buried in a public library. As far as I can see, your collection, once it is mounted, will always be open to anyone." Which leads me to remark that a thing might be buried just across the street if you never called to see it. Possibly some museums do have some material not on active exhibition, but it is a safe guess that a few inquiries about these things would speedily bring them to light. Anything which touches on so many fields of endeavor, as does a large general collection of cards, is bound to be used considerably after it becomes known. Hundreds of the pictures probably cannot be found in any other place, especially the portraits in personages of the theatre, sports, and other celebrities. This will probably be the largest collection of its kind which will be freely available to the public for any purpose.

 not be possible to keep it up to date.

We wish to thank Mr. Charles Barber for showing us a large quantity of new Baseball material for possible listing. Much of it, however, was in the nature of individual pieces not suitable for cataloging. To several others who sent us lists of items for cataloging - we have added some of the things, but on others it is impossible to make a listing without first inspecting the material- to avoid possible error.

EARLY ISSUE

The Bulletin has carried articles on several occasions pointing to the early issue of various Thos.H.Hall cards (Between the Acts cigarettes). The latest similar indication was recently shown us by Mr. Donald Van Brakle who sent us 30 of the actress and athlete cards (#343 and 344) which he had just purchased. On the back of each card in a fine feminine hand is the name "May Elkin" and a date "1880" or "1881". As is well known, it was not uncommon at that time for people to jot their name and the date on the backs of cards when they obtained them. These cards (and #347 are in the same category) are the Type I in the tan-brown shades, which undoubtedly were the earliest. Later, other portraits were added in this type and the coloring was in blue-green shades. Like the other evidences we have mentioned, this is not an air-tight proof of date of issue, but with the others, it is strong enough to convince the ordinary person that this series really began as early as 1880. It thus appears that the heavy flux of card issues around 1886 was only the sudden adoption and expansion of an idea already used by at least one firm - in short, the flaring up of what had been a smoldering local fire to a national conflagration. It is likely that a few others had used cards a little, such as the A&G issues for "Little Beauties". The cause of the flare up? We would guess that it was due to the invasion of Duke into the old northern markets and the desperate need of meeting this strong competition with every possible sales stimulant. Duke himself may have started it. This expansion was spearheaded by photo type cards, which continued in use for years but were soon replaced in large part by the lithographed types.
